

Financial Management Arrangements Project Moving Forward

Project Overview

This project briefing provides a high level view of the current achievements of the Financials Arrangements Project and a summary of the planned activities that will benefit the force as a whole.

Achieving Now and Building For The Future!

This work forms the building blocks for improving the way we manage our finances through defined rules, finance systems and a process change control environment.

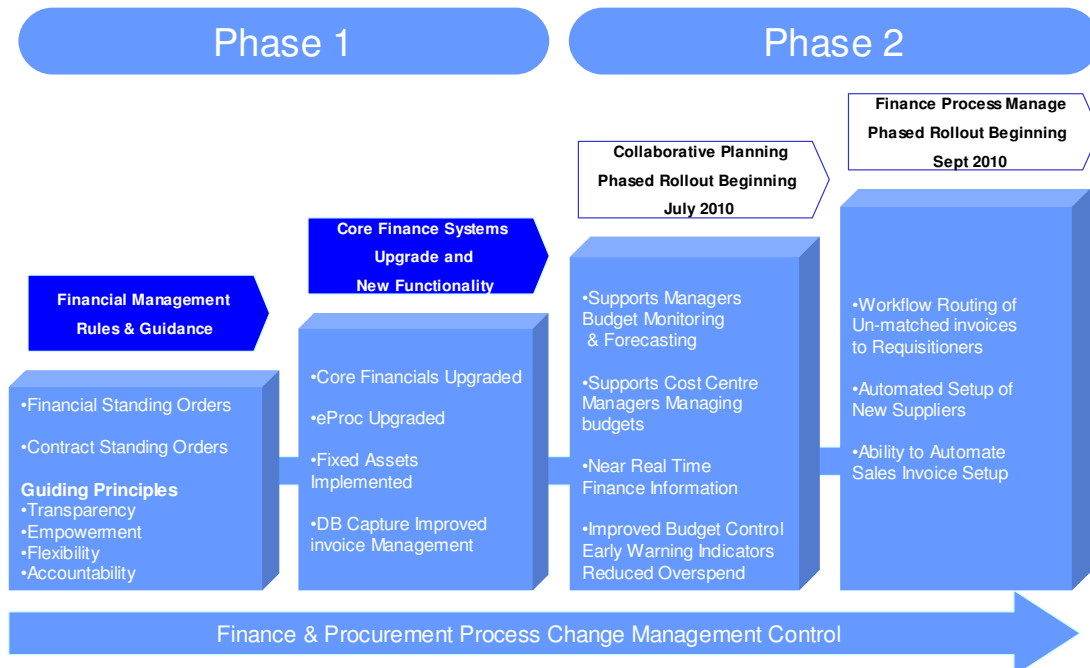

Who is Affected?

Finance & Procurement affects the force as a whole. Some members of staff are directly affected because they are responsible for making strategic financial decisions, managing budgets or, raising requisitions and receipting of goods and services. Other members of staff are indirectly affected but may require the assistance of those with the aforementioned responsibilities and capabilities.

So What Are The Benefits?

- ✓ Reduced exposure to financial risk through improved near real time financial data
- ✓ Empowerment to make more strategic financial decisions, based on accurate data and clear guidelines.
- ✓ Improved financial reporting capabilities with the ability to drill down to detail if necessary
- ✓ Improved transactional workflow notifications

The graphic below, illustrates the building blocks to achieve our objectives and realise the benefits, underpinned by a structured Finance and Procurement Process Change Management Control.
